

Red Hill metals find

Impact Minerals has made its first significant intercept of zinc-lead-silver at its Red Hill exploration site, about 20 kilometres from Broken Hill's Line of Lode.

Impact said that the prospects of the Red Hill area for zinc-lead-silver mineralisation will be assessed following completion of the current drill program.

The company also said it has continued to intercept high-grade platinum group metal mineralisation during its current exploration project.